Part 3: Situations for Community Support

The following non-exhaustive list details situations that will be considered for Community Support:

- An applicant or a member of their family needs support in order to continue to live in the community, rather than moving into institutional care.
- An applicant or a member of their family needs support in order to live in the community because they are leaving institutional or residential care.
- An applicant or a member of their family needs support with settlement following a period where they have experienced an unsettled way of life, or following a major crisis that has caused them to move.
- An applicant needs to look after a prisoner who is on temporary release.
- An applicant needs to purchase a basic necessity for their home that will ease an exceptional pressure on them or their family.
- An applicant needs support, including accommodation, in order to travel to visit a relative who is ill, to attend the funeral of a relative, or to visit their child who has been placed with the child’s other parent pending a court decision.
- An applicant needs support to pay the rent in advance, deposit, or moving costs on a move to suitable accommodation.
- An applicant has moved into work or has an offer of a job, and needs support to pay initial childcare fees or meet the initial costs of moving into work.

Part 4: Situations for Crisis Support

The following non-exhaustive list gives examples we might consider for situations where an applicant may be eligible for Crisis Support because they have experienced a disaster or an emergency which means that it is the only means by which harm to their health and safety or that of a member of their family can be avoided:

- An applicant has recently left institutional care and needs to meet basic living expenses until their next benefit payment.
- An applicant has spent their benefit money for the payment period, and needs to meet basic living expenses until their next benefit payment.
- An applicant has had their fuel supply cut off and needs to pay to have it reconnected and restored into credit.
- An applicant has experienced a disaster such as flooding, fire, or burglary, and needs to meet basic living expenses until their next benefit payment.
- An applicant has lost their benefit money or had it stolen, and needs to meet basic living expenses until their next benefit payment.
- An applicant has not yet received their benefit or tax credit payment and needs to meet basic living expenses until their next benefit payment.
- An applicant needs to pay for hostel accommodation in order to avoid homelessness.
Part 5: Excluded items

The following items will be excluded from provision

- Non-essential electrical goods such as a television or radio
- Travel costs except in the case of provable sickness or death in the family
- Debts
- Expenses relating to a motor vehicle
- Housing or accommodation rental payments or arrears, except where stated
- Costs relating to installation of a telephone line or payment of a telephone bill
- Legal expenses
- Domestic assistance or respite care
- Any medical, dental, aural or optical equipment provision of which is the responsibility of the NHS
- Council Tax or water charges
