

West Ham Park area Low Traffic Neighbourhood

Findings so far
September 2025

The West Ham Park experimental low traffic neighbourhood has now been live for nine months. During this time we have been collecting traffic data and engaging with residents through events and surveys to understand how the scheme affects walking, cycling and vehicle journeys; and to ultimately inform a decision as to whether to keep or remove the scheme.

In this leaflet you will find:

- How the scheme has affected vehicle traffic, cycling and walking so far
- Impacts on walking and cycling in the area
- Feedback received from residents and stakeholders
- How the council has engaged with residents so far and how you can have your voice heard

The feedback survey remains live. We encourage you to share your thoughts and ideas about the experimental West Ham Park LTN. Even if you have previously submitted feedback, you can submit new or additional comments. We are keen to see how your views may have evolved over the course of the scheme. The survey will remain open until the end of the statutory consultation period, and you will receive adequate notice of the survey close date once that is determined.

How the scheme has affected vehicle traffic, cycling and walking so far

Traffic data is being collected and reviewed at over 100 different locations, covering every street within the LTN and all boundary roads.

Monitoring began in November 2022, and data is being continuously collected and reviewed, giving a solid foundation of baseline data and helping show how the LTN has affected the way that people travel.

Comparison of before and after scheme implementation (May 2023 and June 2024)

Indicator		Change after 6 months
Motor vehicle Traffic 	Traffic on all roads	↓ 15%
	Traffic on internal streets	↓ 46%
	Traffic on boundary roads	↓ 3%
Cycling 	Cycling on all roads	↑ 6%
	Cycling on internal streets	↑ 12%
	Cycling on boundary roads	No change

How residents feel about the scheme so far

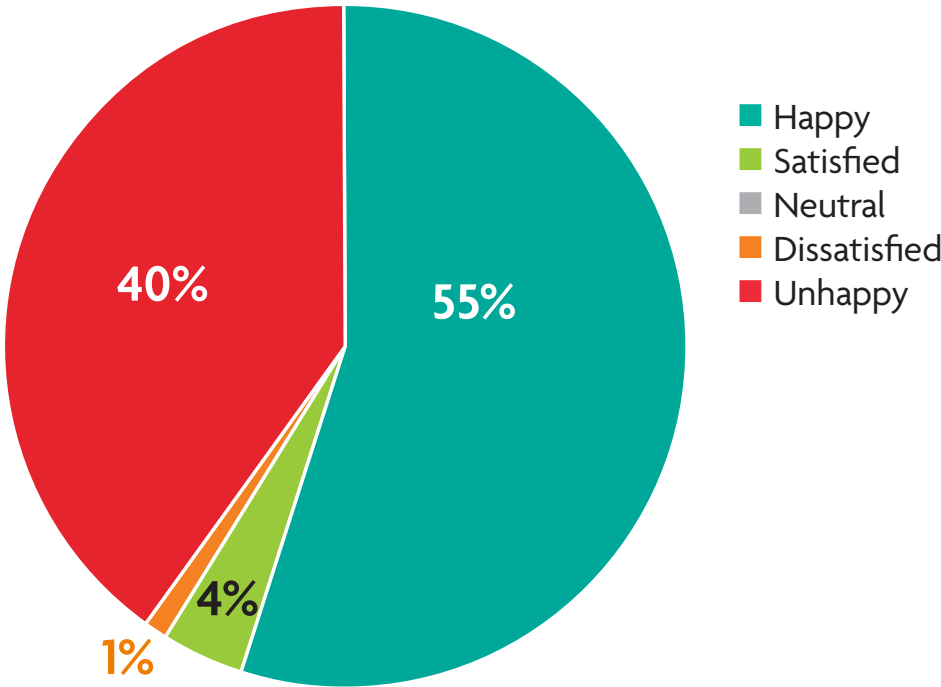

In the previous leaflet we provided a summary of design-related comments that we had received from residents and stakeholders. In this section we provide a summary of how people feel about the scheme, and how these views have changed over the nine months of the scheme.

What have people told us?

How do you feel about the West Ham Park LTN?

One of the key questions in our consultation survey asks residents what their sentiment towards the scheme is as. As the experimental Low Traffic Neighbourhood has settled in, views have evolved. The chart below shows the most recent response from each participant in the survey.

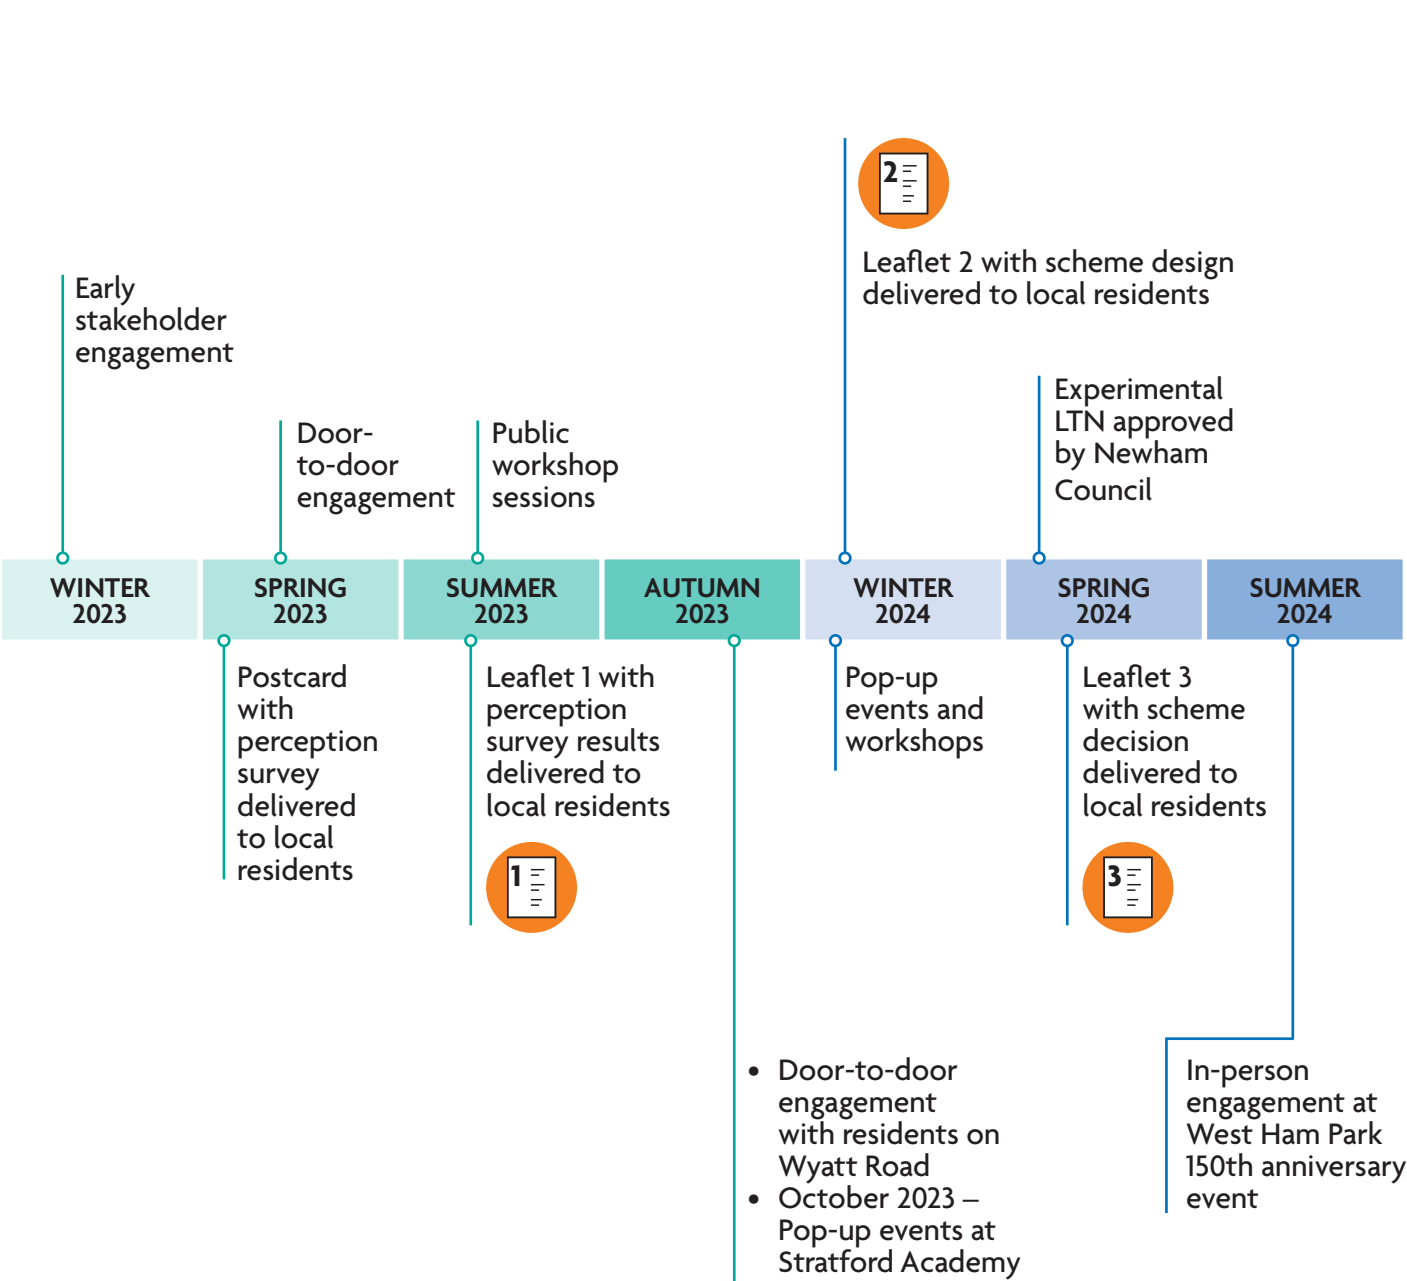

Key themes from our engagement so far have been:

Comments in support of the scheme identify quieter and safer streets, improved air quality, and a stronger sense of community. Residents report more walking, cycling, and overall satisfaction with the changes.

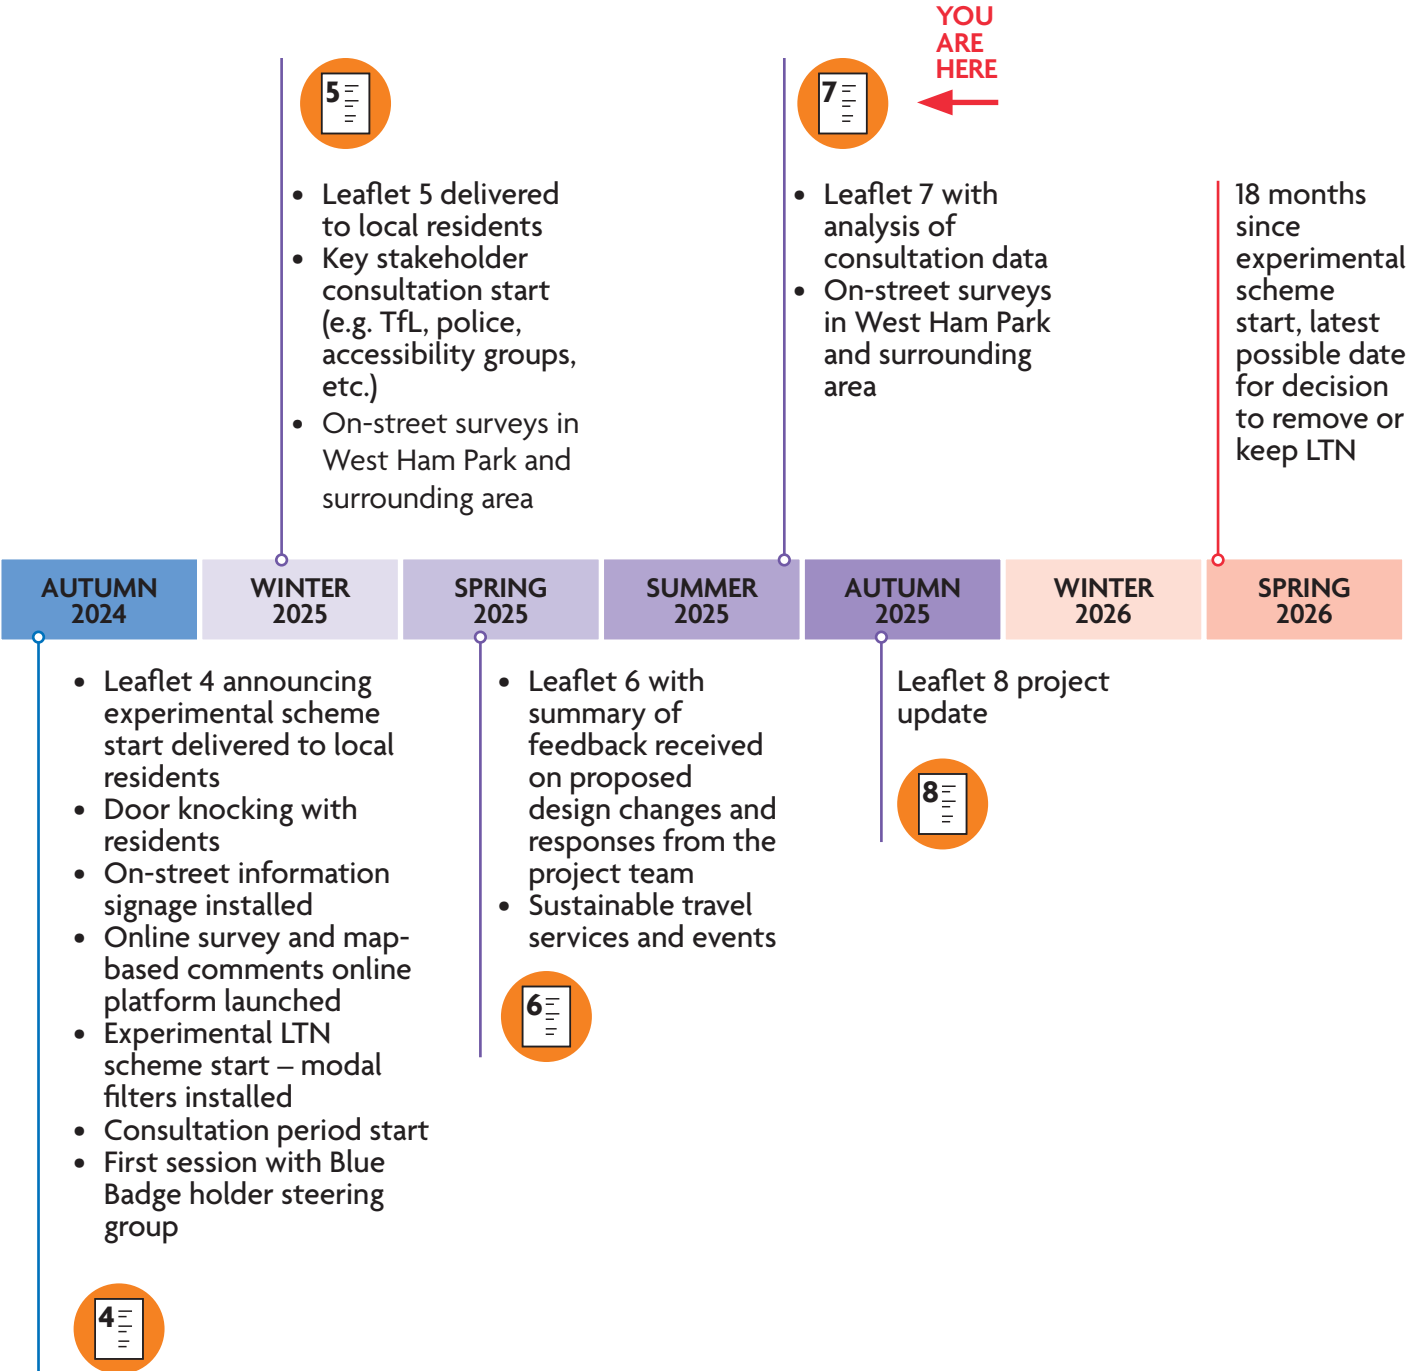

Comments that are not in support of the scheme identify motor vehicle access, impacts on motor vehicle journey times and raise questions about traffic displacement.

Have your say

The West Ham Park low traffic neighbourhood is still in an experimental stage, and we are continuing to receive feedback on the scheme.

Online feedback

Take a quick online survey to share your views, with the option to use an interactive map to comment on specific locations or make design recommendations.

Even if you submitted feedback previously, we welcome further feedback so that we can identify how peoples' views have changed or stayed consistent over the duration of the experimental scheme.
